1. Because He Can Handle It

- a. Our _____ can handle our _____.
 - i. “Pour it out as water. Not as milk, whose color remains. Not as wine, whose savor remains. Not as honey, whose taste remains. But as water, of which, when it is poured out, nothing remains.” – Spurgeon
 - ii. 1 Peter 5:7
 - iii. Psalm 51:17

2. Because Man/Things Cannot

- a. We tend to pour into _____ and _____ because of hope in a _____.
 - i. “David knew what it was to see riches increase, and he knew the foolishness of setting one's heart on them.” - David Guzik
 - ii. 1 Timothy 6:17
 - iii. Matthew 6:24

3. Because We Will Give An Account

- a. Once again we see David _____ of God's _____ and _____.
 - i. “To all mankind, therefore, the prophet here recommends meditation on these two most interesting subjects: the ‘power’ of God to punish sin, and His ‘mercy’ to pardon it. Fear of the former will beget desire of the latter.” – George Horne.
 - ii. Romans 14:10-12
 - iii. 2 Corinthians 5:10
